

Smiles for Votes (Don't Forget Small Fry) As Campaign Whips Down Home Stretch

Campaigning has its serious side. But it has its whimsical moments, too, as any veteran campaigner should know. Here are President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in flashes of identical personal appeal as they head into the last lap of a political campaign leading to the White House.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ GOP Rapped for Neglecting Inflation; Dewey Assails Hull

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Truman said tonight Republican firemen have been too busy playing "political checkers" to put out the threatening flame of inflation.

And on improving the social security system, Mr. Truman accused the GOP of congressional arson.

"The Republican firemen," he said, "not only failed to turn out the hook and ladder. They actually set fire to a couple of houses."

"They struck nearly a million Americans off the social security rolls; and their fire chief now says he is proud of them."

In an address delivered at the Indiana war memorial, Mr. Truman put new emphasis on campaign points he had made before:

"That the Communists 'are doing all they can in this election to bring about a Republican victory.'"

"That the people can expect a Republican president and Congress to take them 'headlong back down the road that led to the great depression.'"

EVIDENTLY, HE SAID, he has offended "the Republican gentleman who wants to be president by talking about depressions."

U. S. Moves to Boost Nation's Uranium Output

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Important moves to boost the production of uranium, the raw material of atomic energy, in Western states were announced tonight by the Atomic Energy commission.

It disclosed that it is negotiating with the Vanadium corporation of America to buy uranium from two ore treatment plants which are to be brought into operation by the corporation next year.

HOMES PROJECT TO START SOON, ZERN INDICATES

Expects Ground Breaking North of Prospect Street In Week to Ten Days

A new housing project will be started by Pottstown Builder Warren B. Zern "within a week or ten days," he announced last night.

Zern declared that next week would see final action by Federal Housing authority officials in Philadelphia, and that ground-breaking on his land north of Prospect street and east of Washington street would then begin.

He plans an eventual development of 100 homes, built in units of four, six and eight.

They will have five and six rooms, and will be available for rent or sale.

Zern expects the homes to cost him approximately $7000 to build, but has repeated often that construction costs vary constantly, and that he cannot know definitely what the final price will be.

SOVIET SPURNS BERLIN TALKS

Vishinsky Accuses U. N. Of Maneuver to Trap Russians Into Discussion

PARIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—Andre Y. Vishinsky today broke Russia's silence in the security council's Berlin debate, but only to slam the door in the face of six neutral countries pressing for an East-West compromise.

Rising dramatically in a tense council meeting, Vishinsky accused the neutrals of maneuvering to trap Russia into taking part in the debate by inviting him to answer questions. "It is naive to believe that the Soviet Union will swallow this bait," he said. "No, gentlemen, we will not."

Vishinsky repeated the Russian argument that the council had no business discussing Berlin. Then he smiled at his aides, sat down and resumed doodling—his principal pastime during the verbal boycott.

The neutral delegates bristled. Council President Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina tossed aside diplomatic niceties and with clenched fists told Vishinsky that he could not accuse the neutrals of double-dealing and "devious motives."

Vishinsky fidgeted. Later he said he was not apologizing but had not meant to reflect on the character of any delegate.

THE OTHER NEUTRAL countries—Canada, China, Colombia, Syria and Belgium—said they fully supported Bramuglia, who had acted as their spokesman in contacting Russia and the Western powers in mediation efforts.

A British spokesman said Vishinsky's speech slammed the door on mediation.

Vishinsky was prodded into breaking his Kremlin-ordered silence by Bramuglia's request that the four big powers answer questions on the Soviet blockade of Berlin and the direct negotiations in the Kremlin. The U. S., Britain and France quickly agreed to submit additional information.

After the bitter exchanges, the council adjourned until next Tuesday with no positive indication of what would happen. Poland's Oscar Lange indicated to newsmen that Vishinsky would veto any decision the council might take contrary to Russian desires.

The upshot of today's meeting is that the East and the West are as far apart as ever on the Berlin case with each side sticking to old positions.

AFTER THE SESSION several delegates congratulated Bramuglia on his answer to Vishinsky. China's T. P. Tsiang said he would have said (Continued on Page Three)

Investigation Shows No 'Favoritism' in School Zone Rules

Charges that school authorities were allowing favored children to cross school boundaries to attend favored schools were scotched by a Mercury investigation yesterday.

The charges were leveled by irate parents who claimed that certain children were allowed to cross the Charlotte street boundary line to attend the Lincoln school.

They accused school authorities of being "pressured" into allowing some pupils to attend the Lincoln school because of a "snobbish" attitude on the part of their parents in refusing to send their children to the Jefferson building.

Co-operating fully in the investigation, school authorities made the classroom records of the Lincoln school available to The Mercury yesterday. A careful check showed that only four children from outside the prescribed area limits were attending the school.

IN EACH CASE, the child had started three or more years ago, before over-crowded conditions existed at the school.

One child formerly lived in the Lincoln school area. When her parents moved just over the boundary line, they asked if she could remain with her classmates.

The other three children were allowed to start at the Lincoln school when only three crowded first year classes were available at the Jefferson school. Allowing them to do so was more of a convenience to the teachers than it was to the parents, school authorities remarked. They since have been allowed to remain because their classes are not over-crowded.

In one of the latter cases, a younger child was allowed to attend because she had an older child to take her to classes.

IN CHECKING the records it was revealed that two of the children are in a class of 30, one is in a class of 22, and the other is in a class of 25.

Only the First and Sixth grades at the Lincoln school present problems in over-crowding, school authorities declared. There are no children from outside the Lincoln school area in the first six grades.

The recent re-zoning of the area, however, which children formerly in the Lincoln school zone now are in the Washington school area, actually has resulted in a shorter walk for many children. It was said.

Children from the farthest corner of the new area have fewer blocks to walk to the Washington school than to the Lincoln school.

Over-crowded conditions in the Sixth grade are unavoidable, schoolmen explained. Since the St. Clair building has no Sixth grade, those children are sent to the Jefferson school. To compensate for this, Sixth grade children coming from outlying area by bus are transferred to the Lincoln building. They swell the ranks of the Sixth grade children already living in the area.

School authorities said the charges of "favoritism" were completely unfounded. They accede to parents' requests to allow their children to attend another school, they said, only if they do not interfere with normal school operation, or for reasons of health, or for personal reasons when a child must suffer undue hardship by remaining in his present building.

The show, sponsored by the Valley Forge Kennel club, will begin at 10 o'clock this morning and close late in the afternoon. Weather prediction is sunny and warmer.

Kilburn said that all the tents had been erected, all benches marked, the bridge, between the West King street parking lot and the island where the show will be held, has been replaced and even some of the dogs had arrived by last night.

FOURTEEN OF THEM, in fact, coming from Virginia, New York and Connecticut, were bedded down last night at the show grounds under a two-man guard.

The only hitch in the arrangements came yesterday. Kilburn said, when the warden hose connecting to a water outlet on the "mainland" (Continued on Page Three)

$800 DONATION PUTS 'PORT FUND BEYOND $3200

Anonymous Contribution Sends Campaign Well Over Half Way Mark

An anonymous donor yesterday gave $800 to the Airport Fund.

The whopping post-drive contribution plus others yesterday put the fund at $3200, well beyond half way to the $5150 goal.

As of last night, there was only $1942.82 needed to wrap up the $72,000 package the State and Federal governments will deliver when they get the $5150.

There was no let down yesterday after Thursday night's bonough drive which netted $1588.

The Pilot club of Pottstown, determined as ever to obtain for Pottstown a modern, well-equipped airport, carried on and will carry on soliciting as before.

Herbert N. Maier, president, yesterday said, "The pilots have never given up before. They won't now."

MEMBERS will seek and accept any gifts. They will even call for a donation if the contributor leaves his address with a member or at The Mercury.

Donors may also bring or send their gifts to The Mercury. Names of all contributors will be published.

Maier said he and other club members expected to get contributions from many persons missed on Thursday night.

In addition to finding many persons not at home during the drive, many club members who collected with the Boy Scouts heard the complaint that the drive hit them just before a Friday payday.

Besides leaders and club members, 80 scouts participated in the drive.

Some streets and homes were missed in the drive. It's those families at which the Pilot club is aiming for contributions.

Borough Employees Asked to Affiliate With Labor Union

Approximately 30 borough highway workers have been asked to join a labor union, it was learned last night.

Most of the men have been approached by an organizer, and many were understood to have signed union cards.

If the union is formed here, it would be the first such organization of highway workers. They have been organized in other communities in the past year, including Reading.

Currently, the average borough highway worker puts in 45 hours a week.

Some, however, including truck drivers and equipment operators, work as many as 55 hours a week. None are paid time and one-half for overtime.

IT WAS BELIEVED that unionization of the men would put them on a 40-hour week, with extra pay for overtime.

W. Earl Pottelger, highway superintendent, added, "I believe it would take them out of politics."

He added that although some of the men had asked him (Continued on Page Three)

Royersford Man Sleeps at Wheel As Car Overtakes, Slides on Roof

A sound-sleeping Royersford man awoke on Route 422 early yesterday morning to find himself more or less standing on his head, with his demolished 1940 sedan snaking along on its roof and its motor still running.

Linwood Smoyer, of 566 Main street, Royersford, took West King street parking lot and the island where the show will be held, has been replaced and even some of the dogs had arrived by last night.

Advance Gifts of $35,000 Push Chest Fund Past One-Third Mark

More than a third of the 1948 goal in the Community Chest campaign has been subscribed, it was reported last night by the advance gifts team.

The official opening date of the Red Feather drive is Oct. 19.

A dinner in the YMCA at 6:30 p. m. will start the drive, with Roger S. Firestone, managing director of the Pottstown plant, Firestone Tire and Rubber company, as guest speaker.

AT LAST NIGHT'S meeting of the advance gifts team in the Brookside Country club, a total of $35,029 representing 148 gifts, was reported. It was the last meeting before Tuesday night's opening dinner.

Robert L. Smith, team chairman, said that the advance gift subscriptions should pass $50,000, with 100 subscriptions still being awaited.

The Red Feather goal for 1948 is $97,307.

Dewey Candidacy Headache to Store Owner

Honor of producing a president of the United States is one that Harold D. Colvin would like to see come to his town of Owosso, Mich. But that desire is somewhat mixed with headache that Thomas E. Dewey's Republican candidacy is giving him. Dewey, you see, was born in the building owned by Colvin and he has been confronted with an endless stream of tourists who want him and his clerks to drop in and conduct them on a tour of the second-floor quarters in which Dewey was born. Several persons have asked to buy the building for a museum, but Colvin intends to hang onto it as the site of his appliance business. Discussing the problem are (from left) Wayne Luchenbill; Colvin's son, Bill; Colvin, and Mrs. Eleanor Wright, store employe.

U. S. Sources Deny Marshall Intervened In Communist-Led French Coal Strike

PARIS, Oct. 15 (AP) — Informed American sources said today that charges Secretary of State George C. Marshall had intervened in the French coal strike were "ridiculous."

The charge was made yesterday in an interview by Arthur Horner, Communist secretary general of the British Mine Workers union. He said Marshall recently told Will Lawther, president of the British union, to attack the nation-wide French stoppage.

Police Hold Driver In Hit-Run Accident

Charged with a hit and run and drunken driving offense, John P. Markowski, Norristown, was being held by State police of the Collegeville sub-station yesterday following an accident on Swamp pike, five miles west of Collegeville, Thursday night.

Markowski was driving south on the pike when his car collided with a northbound car driven by H. Raymond Steller, Schwenksville RD 1. Continuing on his way, Markowski ran his car into a pole a short distance south of the highway.

State police took him to Dr. Ivan Hess, Limerick, who pronounced him unfit to operate a motor vehicle. He was held for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Charles J. Gorman at a later date.

Neither Markowski nor Steller was injured in the collision, but State police estimated that $15 damage was done to Steller's car and $100 damage to Markowski's.

Bi-Partisan 'Politics' Called 'Subversive' By Wallace in Illinois

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP) — Henry Wallace said tonight that "bi-partisan political machines" are "dangerous and subversive" and are increasing their power in America.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Sokol Chicago hall, the third party presidential candidate said these Republican-Democrat machines operate on a national, state, county, and city level, that they are "corrupt," that they are in "caboodle with crime and graft" and are "utterly cynical and sinister."

Wallace particularly attacked the two old parties in Illinois. He said they have kept his Progressive party off the ballot in this state because it threatened their power. "The Progressive party," Wallace said, "is going to be the strongest political force in this nation, and it is going to end political corruption in Illinois."

He said the Illinois "bi-partisan machine" is composed of "Democratic bosses in Cook county (Chicago) and the Republican bosses downstate, accustomed so long to working closely together."

ILLINOIS IS one of the few states where Wallace's name will not appear on the ballot. That is, it will not appear unless the U. S. Supreme Court reverses the rulings of lower courts that the Progressives failed to conform with the requirements of the Illinois election laws.

Wallace said the Illinois "bi-partisan machine" decided to take the new Progressive party for a ride in Illinois, and added, "I do not know of any more sinister piece of political sabotage."

Ther's Wallace said: "I suppose this kind of an attack on the very basis of our American democracy was only possible in a state where the boss-controlled, bipartisan machine has been so long notorious for its tolerance of gangsterism, graft, corruption."

AT AN EARLIER meeting with representatives of foreign language minority groups, Wallace said he has never told a single soul, not even his wife, how many votes he thinks the party is going to get Nov. 2.

Wallace resumes his airplane tour tomorrow, flying to Dalton, Ga. for an afternoon speech.

Oak Ridge Scientist Forecasts Arrival Of Atomic Planes

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15 (AP) — An Oak Ridge engineer says the theory of an atom-driven airplane is 90 percent perfected.

David M. Poole reported to the Baltimore Society of Automotive Engineers that the job is now up to the shoe men with their drawing boards and working models.

The scientists have thought out a way to tap the power of mobile atomic pile, he said. Now the engineers must make the idea work. They must design and build the engine, the plane, the controls, and the protection for pilots and crew.

Poole is a member of the nuclear energy for the propulsion of aircraft project at Oak Ridge and head of its thermodynamics (heat problems) group.

NEARLY ALL the airplane manufacturers in the country have specialists at Oak Ridge working at the puzzle. He represents Fairchild Aircraft.

The big thing about an atom-powered plane, Poole said, is that in theory at least it could go on flying forever.

"The time has come," he said, "when we can no longer afford not to have atomic aircraft."

He reasoned:

Super-bombers developed since the war must carry so much fuel they can't go very fast by jet-propelled standards. Jet planes which go better than 700 miles an hour can't carry enough fuel to stay up very long.

But a weight unit of atomic power as potent as 2,000,000 weight units of gasoline.

POOLE REPORTED the scientists have made up their minds how to make most of this power. Use the heat generated in an atomic pile. What kind of a heat engine? Rocket-thrust? No, said Poole. Tied and abandoned steam turbine. Turbo-jet? Ram-jet? All crossed off, said Poole.

"A nuclear rocket," he said, "Exactly what is that? Secret!"

The next problem is to protect the crew from the deadly atomic rays. Operators at Oak Ridge work behind heavy concrete.

Poole said the scientists have a much lighter material now. They've cut down the radiation leak to about the amount you get from the luminous dial of a wrist watch.

DOG SHOW —

for water for the show, blew out two lumes.

It was subsequently discovered that the hose, only one inch in diameter, had been connected to a two-inch pipe and also that the hose, a borrowed number, was three years old. It has been replaced.

The show will begin at 10 o'clock with the judging of some of the 50 breeds entered. But the grounds will be open an hour before that and dogs will be arriving at about 7 o'clock, Kilburn said.

AFTER JUDGING of breeds is concluded at about 1:30 p. m., judging of six major groups begins. Final judging for "best-of-show" will be done at about 4:30 o'clock.

At about 2 o'clock, however, one of the show's features, an obedience demonstration of half a dozen dogs, will be run off.

The 323 trophies and cash awards plus regularly given American Kennel club ribbons and rosettes will be handed out at the judging proceeds.

There are five classes for each sex in each breed and for each class there are cash awards ranging from $1 to $10, contributed by the Valley Forge Kennel club.

Thirty-seven of the trophies have been locally contributed by individuals and concerns.

Ribbons and rosettes will go to the best four dogs in each class of each breed.

Sixteen judges coming from all over the Middle Atlantic states will judge the show.

AIRLIFT —

American and British resources so as to put them to more efficient use.

Gen. Leslie D. Clay, American military governor, commented that the team-up was merely history repeating itself. He said he did not doubt it would work harmoniously because "we learned to work so closely with the British during the war."

A British officer at Gatow airport on the western outskirts of Berlin said he believed the Russian gunfire came from tanks engaging in maneuvers and was about three miles away. The firing snook windows at the airport.

A senior American Air Force officer declared the firing definitely was not from anti-aircraft guns. He identified its sound as ground artillery fire.

BRITISH AND American planes taking off from Gatow on the airlift passed directly over where the shells were bursting less than 200 feet from the ground, an official British announcement said. The firing lasted more than half an hour.

The British recalled that both the past year and in 1946 Russian tank shells landed on the outskirts of Gatow. An old German training area is about three miles west of the field, and it is believed the Russians are using it for similar purposes now.

The British, who reported the firing to a Soviet representative, said the Russian replied merely that there was no anti-aircraft firing by the Russians today.

While the practice firing continued, airlift planes were landing on radar instrument from murky skies. Heavy rain slowed the operations until only 424 planes got into Berlin, about two-thirds the usual number.

A U S MILITARY government officer, was disclosed today to have predicted in an official report that Russia may "fight rather than compromise" in her drive to Sovietize Europe.

The officer, Louis Glaser of Washington, D. C., and Brookline, Mass., wrote the report when he left for the United States recently after three years as chief of the political affairs division here.

He said the Russians "regard Berlin as the keystone" of their Sovietizing campaign and their blockade as a principal part of their plan.

It has been assumed, perhaps erroneously, that the USSR does not desire an open clash," he wrote. "But it is evident that the symbolism of Berlin is all important to the Russians, that if they are threatened with an ideological defeat they may resort to any means to consolidate their grip on the city and on the Eastern zone. It is possible to estimate they will fight rather than compromise their intention to push Soviet Communism into Western Europe."

ALLIED AUTHORITIES announced they were ready to grant airlift facilities to any of the Western-aligned military missions stationed here. The official Soviet press declared Wednesday it had been proposed that 15 foreign military missions here accredited to the new inactive Allied Control Council be asked to leave. The missions represent Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Greece, India, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Poland, South Africa and Yugoslavia.

Special articles in the Soviet press declared today that widespread "anti-Soviet elements" had been discovered in the ranks of the Russian-sponsored Socialist unity party. A ruthless purge even of upper circles was demanded.

he added, "don't talk about 'one' in the House of somebody who has been changed."

The President's address was the last major speech of a 3500-mile mid-Western campaign swing. The forum was a platform on the steps of the war memorial, facing a plaza in the heart of the city.

Mr. Truman had spent the day slumping the Hoosier state and taking political pokes at Republican Candidate Thomas E. Dewey and House Republican leader Charles McNair of Indiana.

Dewey was an old target. Hallick, a new one. Mr. Truman said Hallick faces backward instead of forward. He said personally he likes "Charlie" but "politically I'd like to put him out of business."

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, he said, favors the interests of a "few small powerful business groups at the expense of the rest of the people and this is the course that leads to depression."

The Democratic party, he said, "consistently works for measures which increase and protect the purchasing power of the great majority of the people."

"For two long years," Mr. Truman said, "we have been turning in fire alarms. And for two long years, the Republican firemen have been too busy playing a game of political checkers to put out the blaze."

They figured that maybe the fire of inflation would burn itself out or that it was un-American to put water on the flames.

AND HE SAID THE record was much the same on education, health and social security, that the Democrats tried to improve them and the Republicans in Congress refused.

There's been a lot of "nonsense" about health insurance he said. There has been a well-organized campaign to discredit it and to confuse the issues he added.

The health program he has proposed to Congress, he said, is "100 percent American," that it is a way to collect the cost of doctoring on a pay-as-you-go basis. But as for the Republicans, Mr. Truman said:

"All they said was — 'sorry we can't do that. The medical lobby says it's un-American.'"

"I put it up to you. Is it un-American to visit the sick, and the afflicted or comfort the dying? I thought it was simple Christianity."

SCHOOLS, THE President said, are "languishing at the seams," but the 80th Congress "flatly refused to pass a law to help in 'the educational crisis.'"

He said he had thought that laws passed in Democratic administrations would provide enough protection against a return to the "black despair" of 1932. But he said he

Owners Extinguish Two Fires in Area

A fire-up in the oil burner at the home of Ralph Kulp, 782 North Adams street, sent the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine and Empire Hook and Ladder companies racing to the home yesterday morning.

Acting quickly, however, Kulp smothered the blaze with a cover before the companies arrived.

The call came through the central dispatching station in borough hall at 7:30 o'clock. There was no fire damage, Philles' Driver George Manger reported.

A small fire of undetermined origin caused slight damage to a garage at the rear of the home of Charles J. McCarthy, 210 East Third street, shortly after noon yesterday.

A telephoned alarm to the central dispatching station sent both the Good Will and Empire Hook and Ladder fire companies to the scene.

In the meantime, however, McCarthy had zipped the burning boards from the side of the garage and had extinguished the flames.

The Good Will Fire company said no damage would be listed on the fire report.

the same thing. A French delegate said Vishinsky had pulled a "coner."

The U. S. Britain and France put Berlin before the security council with charges that Russia is threatening world peace by her blockade. Russia in turn contended that there is no blockade, the council has no right to discuss the case and it should go to the four-power council of foreign ministers.

Bramuglia has been trying since Oct. 6 to find a solution on behalf of the six council nations not directly involved. The other council members are the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and the Soviet Ukraine. Today he said the neutrals wanted to ask these questions:

1. Would the U. S., France, Britain and Russia explain how the restrictions (blockade) in Berlin were imposed, giving details?
2. Would the four powers explain the Moscow agreement of Aug. 30 in which instructions were given to the military governors in Berlin and why these were not carried out?

The Aug. 30 agreement formed the basis on which the West said the blockade could be lifted but the West charged that Russia refused to carry out the pact by adding a demand for control of the airlift.

AFTER THE THREE Western powers acceded to Bramuglia's request for more information Vishinsky made a short statement repeating Russia's refusal to have anything to do with the Berlin case in the U. N. then he said:

"But wasn't raising of the question here merely a desire to drag the Soviet Union into the discussions? It is a very skillful step. It is useless to think that the Soviet delegation will swallow this bait. To count on the Soviet delegation submitting any information and details to the security council would be an illusory hope. The Soviet government will not stick to the shue which has been put on the paper."

of dictators" if he is elected president.

The Republican nominee called for a "vital, realistic" foreign policy in addressing an estimated crowd of 8000 persons in municipal auditorium.

There was a big block of vacant seats in the rear balcony. A. K. Hanson, assistant manager of the auditorium, said seating had been arranged for 11,200 persons.

Dewey came to St. Paul after sharply criticizing the Democrats in touring of Minnesota communities, for their handling of both international affairs and farm problems.

Dewey's speech here climaxed the convention of the National Federation of Women's Republican clubs.

He got a rousing cheer at the outset of his address in calling Harold E. Stassen, one of the finest leaders of our times "Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, lost the GOP presidential nomination to Dewey."

DEWEY FIRED HIS charge dealing with the "forces of aggression" in a speech at Owatonna, Minn. He also said there that the Democrats had made a "tremendous concession" to the "forces" to "appease millions of people all over this world."

At Owatonna, where a police-estimated crowd of 3000 persons welcomed him, Dewey pledged to:

"Bring to our government a new sense of competence and vigor and integrity, to bring to it a consistent policy which will not do as this administration has done over the years—by wobbling from side to side, making trades behind its hand with the forces of aggression—making tremendous concessions to them."

Dewey aides said his reference to "trades behind his hand" was an allusion to agreements made by President Truman at Potsdam in 1945, and not to recent foreign policy developments.

In his speech here tonight, Dewey promised that if he is elected in November, farmers will get less politics and more practical help in soil conservation—the help a grateful nation owes to them in the job of saving our land.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in a national broadcast, Dewey plugged for the re-election of a U. S. senator. He usually reserves that for an after-broadcast chat with his audience.

Tonight he said over the radio he was looking forward "with pleasure" to working in Washington with both Senator Joseph H. Ball and Edward J. Thye, Minnesota's Republican senators.

Accident Epidemic Hits Williamsport

WILLIAMSPORT, Oct. 15 (AP) — A rash of accidents broke out in Williamsport today, one resulting in a fatality.

A 21-ton construction truck smashed a vertical hanger on the Market street bridge over the Susquehanna river, closing the span for a week until repairs are made.

The fatal ty involved a 3-year-old boy, Boon. T. Goode, who was struck by an automobile on a one-way street, a half mile from his home.

A companion was called injured and police were unable to determine for the boy strayed so far from home.

Another of the mishaps was of the hit-run variety — but involved only pedestrians. Mrs. R. S. Sancers, while walking into a store, was "suddenly" shoved by a man on the way out. She fell and suffered a fractured hip.

And to round out the accident events, a driverless car drifted from a parking space in mid-air, traveled a block and crashed into another auto moving in the opposite direction.

Airport Afterthoughts

CONGRATULATIONS, Pottstown! True civic spirit was displayed Thursday night when the "little men" of Pottstown were asked to save the municipal airport. The "little men" were asked to contribute $5100 to save Federal and State appropriations for a modern airport. They didn't quite make the quota. A total of $4446 was collected at Pottstown private dwellings.

That was a noble response, when you analyze all factors.

First of all, most of the donations were of the dollar variety. That meant the collectors had to collect from 1446 homes. Pottstown only has 6500 dwelling units. Lots of folks were away. Some donated before. So the collectors did a great job! And Pottstown responded nobly.

The nicest part is this: Almost 1446 more persons became stockholders in the municipal airport. They gave their bucks. Therefore they have a personal interest in the airport. They have a right, too, to have their names sealed in a sort of Pottstown time capsule so that future generations will know the persons who had faith in Pottstown's future.

Those 1446 bucks collected Thursday night added to voluntary contributions of $900 and some $800 reported today bring the airport fund total to more than $3100.

That's not bad, is it?

All we need now is some $3000.

We've got enough faith in Pottstown, its institutions, its citizens to believe the $3000 will be forthcoming.

And you've got to admire those members of the Pilots club who say: "We're not quitting. We're going to continue the campaign until the goal is reached."

That's real spirit. If you admire that type of spirit, slip 'em your buck donation!

There are many persons The Mercury should say "thank you" to for their great work Thursday night.

Robert U. Borneman, executive of the Boy Scouts, deserves a great big slap on the back for sidestepping Scouts rules to allow the boys to push doorbells.

The scores of Boy Scouts who did the leg work also deserve great credit.

Herbert N. Maier and his fellow Pilot club members—who not only performed noble work in the past, but will continue to work—also are on the "legion of merit" list. Mr. Maier says his feet still are burning from walking the streets, so he hopes citizens' pockets are burning to release the bucks for the airport! All the others who aided have our thanks.

Now the fund continues.

That means if you haven't given your contribution, if you weren't home when the boys called, if you feel you'd like to give a donation to Pottstown's progress:

1. Give your donation to a Pilot club member.
 2. Slip your bill or check into an envelope and send it to The Mercury.
 3. Bring your donation into The Mercury office.
- Small, large and medium gifts are welcome.

AND now it's the helicopter—a Russian invention of B. N. Yuriv in 1912, according to Pravda.

As painted by Moscow's present press agents, the "capitalist" Russia of the Czars must have been highly progressive. The press agents should be careful. One of the heresies that led to the downfall of Leon Trotsky was a statement that Russian industrial progress from 1906 to the Revolution was as great as that of post-Revolutionary times.

In American pinko patter the claims of scientific and technical priority for Russia now coming out of Moscow are symptoms of "racism" or "racial chauvinism," by "Babbitts of the Left."

Cheerful Thought

CARE-LADEN adults, depressed by the state of the world and the burden of personal problems, can improve their state of mind by taking a good look at the younger generation these Autumn days.

As they observe the light-hearted, care-free joy in living, they may note that a generation is growing up to whom these troubled times will some day be known as "the good old days before the war."

Protest Borough Tax on Norco Football Games Here

Call It an 'Injustice'

To the Editor: We, the people of North Coventry township, would like an opportunity to express ourselves on an issue which concerns a tax levied on a recent sports event which our high school held on Pottstown field on the night of Oct. 2.

Those responsible did not even have the courtesy to notify us in advance, but waited until noon of the day of the contest. We assume that was done so we could not cancel the game.

Then, adding insult to injury by bluntly stating the reason, North Coventry was not entitled to any courtesy because we are not in the borough of Pottstown.

Our people have always been very generous to Pottstown, its charities, Community Chest, etc. We are a part of your shopping area.

It seems a shame to have the good will of our people destroyed in a thoughtless deed perpetrated by those in authority without the desire for justice.

We of Norco have been trying for years to make athletics a paying proposition, not for any personal gain but to give our boys and girls an opportunity to play with the best equipment and best protection.

Athletics, to us, are not just a sport but an integral part of building character and citizenship. Athletics have made our men and women the envy of the world. It teaches discipline; it teaches our people to play to a set of rules—rules of the game, rules for all, just one. Rules that we carry through life.

What rules do the Pottstown council play?

This letter is in no way aimed at the Pottstown school. It is directed to those who have shown us Norco every courtesy. Pottstown RD 2 NORTH COV-ENTRY BOOSTERS

WASHINGTON
GOP Back in Control Of Bay State Politics

By RAY TUCKER

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 15.—The Brahmins of Beacon Hill have regained dominance in Bay State politics after almost 16 years of unhappy retirement during the Roosevelt regime, and the Republicans will easily elect their full national and state slate next month. It will be the first return to GOPism since 1928, when Alfred E. Smith salvaged some comfort by squeaking through over Herbert Hoover by a narrow margin.

The restoration of the Deweys, Saltonstals and Lodges to power in the State House and at Washington may have national importance in that it marks a strong swing toward dignified and restrained conservatism. It signifies a sharp break from the era when this combined industrial, agricultural and shipping area, as well as most of New England, forewore its founders and their descendants for the Roosevelt, Curleys, Tobins and their local allies.

DESCENDANTS: The candidates for re-election as governor and lieutenant governor—Arthur William Bradford and Arthur William Coolidge respectively—will lead the first generation descendants of the original Mayflower. Bradford, Senator Leverett Saltonstall, seeking a second term in the Senate, goes back almost as far.

Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, working on foreign affairs at Albany with Governor Dewey, springs from the elegant dynasty of which it has been written that "the Cabots speak only to Lowells, and the Lowells speak only to God."

Luckily for the present-day generation, they have democratized their language so that it is understandable to the ordinary voter in this comparatively cosmopolitan Commonwealth.

SHIFT: Politicians on both sides regard it as a sure sign of next month's national political revolution that this inbred and conservative family of politicians should sweep a state which was a stronghold of Roosevelt-Walsh-Curley, strongholds so recently.

It will achieve such an upset only through a wholesale shift of thousands of votes of farmers, workmen, the children of immigrant families, disillusioned independents and intellectuals and the white collar class.

In more recent days the desertion of President Truman has been accelerated by his Vinson-Stalin blunder, for this section is extremely internationally-minded.

DEFLECTIONS: Even a majority of pinkish, Harvard academics, who presented Washington with such shining and influential intellectuals as Felix Frankfurter, Dean Acheson, James Landis, Alger Hiss and other Rooseveltian reformers, may vote for the Dewey-Warren-Bradford-Saltonstall-Coolidge ticket.

In view of these defections in the cold halls of Cambridge, the prosperous mill towns, the hamlets and the farming villages, it does not seem surprising if the GOP carried Massachusetts by between 100,000 and 200,000 votes.

CROWDS: Nevertheless, here as elsewhere, there is no evidence of genuine enthusiasm or affection for the Republican nominee, as there was for President Roosevelt. Yankeeand's heterogeneous elements seem to feel, perhaps only subconsciously, that there is need of a new party in power and a new figure at the federal controls.

But the ironic and humorous aspect of the political situation here is that no state in the Union possesses such a collection of noble soreheads. Inasmuch as they are divided almost equally between the two major parties, the internal dissatisfaction and jealousies will have hardly any effect on the November outcome.

'Muzzle' Animal Lovers

To the Editor: I read with great interest the letter from P. J. Mc ("Dog Loving Has Its Limits") Readers Say, Oct. 11) for how well it reminded me of an incident this past Summer when a great animal lover deliberately told her dogs to go ahead and bite the so-called "brats" of the neighborhood.

These little children harm no one, and are content to play in their own backyards when not being molested. That's more than can be said of this woman's dogs, for they run all over the neighborhood, upsetting garbage cans and running flower gardens.

You see, this woman can't get along with human beings so she turns to animals who don't talk back.

I say, put a muzzle on this animal lover until she learns to appreciate and love children—as well as she does animals. Pottstown RD 3 CHILDREN BE-FORE ANIMALS

Wentzel Case a Disgrace

To the Editor: We talk about our wonderful American system of justice! But the investigation and prosecution of the Wentzel case, from its very beginning to its end from which there is no appeal, has been a very black mark on that so-called fair system.

Speaking for Myself

THERE'S NO DENYING the "money-moon" is really over in the nineties, but one section of the populace can rejoice. For they may find this so-called depression a boon.

I refer to the patrons. The day may not be far off when they will get the brands they order instead of whatever bar Scotch happens to be cheapest and nearest to the bartender's hand, and these potations may be served in regulation. Instead of what one comedian referred to with more accuracy than hyperbole as "a glass-filled glass," inferior food will no longer be acceptable just because a floor show accompanies it, and headwaiters who have been haughty in other seasons are bound to mend their ways.

The day may come when John Doe will not necessarily be subjected to the humiliation of being seated in a saloon Siberia because he has neglected to cross the maitre d'hotel's palm with gold. (Silver? That's strictly for gypsies!) I don't say it will happen tomorrow night, but it is on the way.

And the greedy attitude that is a heavily contributing factor to the current nightclub slump is not confined to the dining rooms of the glitter places. A couple of evenings ago a friend of mine who had popped a ship strap asked a powder room matron for a needle and thread and was told, to her surprise (for the cafe was in the luxury class) that these items were not to be had. Indeed, God!

The Worry Clinic

MOLLY G, 20, works as a maid for a Chicago family

"She is a very capable girl and absolutely reliable," the woman who employs her explained to me.

"But she is so excessively shy and untalkative that I feel sorry for her. She has no social life at all, and is even so timid she is nearly paralyzed with fright at the thought of answering the telephone."

"When she does speak, it is in a weak, nasal manner."

"I have often wondered if her nasal speech wasn't a defense mechanism. It seems to me that the only way she could get up nerve enough to face a person and talk to him, was by disguising her voice through this nasal manner of speaking."

"Dr. Crane, I wish you would talk to Molly, and see if you can't help her. I want her to become more socialized and happy."

AFTER a conference with Molly, I found that her employer had pretty well diagnosed the case.

Molly had grown up on a farm, as an only child of foreign born parents. She had suffered many inferiority complexes from the time she entered the first grade.

Her weak voice and nasal speech were further attempts by which to hide from her public. You readers may have noticed that timid school children may speak hardly above a whisper.

Even adults are often afraid of their own voices when they get in a crowd. One of the first signs of an amateur on the stage is the fact that he speaks in such subdued tones that nobody can hear him beyond the front rows.

Every semester I would have the students in my evening "Business Psychology" classes arise and announce their names, hobbies and type of business in which they were employed.

Many of them had such weak voices that the students a few rows away did not catch the name at all.

The men and women who are working at introverted tasks which keep them away from social contacts a great deal, are more likely to have feeble voices, because they are afraid in a crowd.

Moreover, they are not as accustomed to talking, so their own voice may sound unduly loud to them.

If you readers will observe your human environment closely, I am sure you will notice men who talk out of the corners of their mouths.

Or they may hold their hands before their mouths, thus obliterating our sight of their lip movements, or mutter or talk through their noses, much as Molly has been doing in today's case.

Molly improved greatly in her speech and personality by having her teeth cared for by a dentist, by deep breathing exercises and some speech training, plus enrolling in the Compilment Club.

type the traces of blood found under his fingernails, and many, many other commissions and omissions constitute a terrible indictment against an impartial investigation and the fair presentation of evidence.

The methods and tactics used in prosecuting the case were not those characteristic of an upright prosecutor representing the Commonwealth, but rather those usually resorted to by a defense lawyer who has no case at all.

Chief Justice Maxey, widely known as a scholarly and learned judge, together with two associate justices, constitute the one shining light among all those connected with the prosecution and judgment of this case as he fought, in his scorching minority opinion, to uphold the traditional principles of the American system of justice.

The conduct of the investigation, the prosecution of the case and its disposition will forever remain an indelible blot on the local police, the district attorney's office and the entire American system of justice.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Pennies in a Pint... Coming & Going...

COUNT — How many pennies in a pint? There may be many opinions. But Mr. and Mrs. August Otter, and their son Chester, Gilbertville RD 1 will tell you there're just 656. The three saved all the pennies they got in change. They dropped them in a pint bottle on a handy shelf. Yesterday Mrs. Otter brought in the filled bottle to The Mercury Milk Fund. There was just $656 in one-cent pieces in the bottle. "And we've got another one started," said Mrs. Otter. The donation was deposited in the Milk Fund.... Correspondent makes this pertinent suggestion: "Now is the time for all good men to come to."

SATURDAY SNICKER — Pottstownian fortunate enough to get to Boston to watch the world series games, said he saw a woman trying to park her automobile near the ball park. Leaning out a window, she called to a nearby traffic cop. "Can I turn around here?" The policeman shook his head sadly, like a teacher who has spent weary hours fruitfully trying to impress a simple fact upon his pupil. Then, his voice tense with exquisite sarcasm, he replied: "You may if you can!"

POLITICS — Harry H. Kelly, Ambler, who is a candidate for Congress, rolled a political rally audience into the aisles the other night when he told of one of his first experiences in politics. "I ran for a minor local office," he related. "Everything looked promising until I heard my opponent had undermined me, and undermined me well. He went to the policemen, told the Irish cops that I was a Protestant. He told the Protestant cops that I was a Catholic. Then he went to the Negro cops and told them I was a member of the Ku Klux Klan. How could I win?"

ENTERPRISE — A self-service laundry, of the type popular in many larger cities, soon will be open in the former Focht grocery store building at Charlotte and Wilson streets.... The cranberry people are launching a campaign urging the teaming of cranberries with chicken. The berry people hope that such a combination will take the cranberry out of the exclusive turkey class and put it in with Sunday chicken dinners. That occurred back in 1912.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M. D.

NOWADAYS more and more attention is being given by the medical profession to the problems of spastic children, those unfortunate youngsters, who, because of birth injuries or faulty development of the brain, come into the world seriously handicapped.

Some of these little patients have what is known as spastic palsy; and certain muscles are in a state of almost constant movement. Others have a rigid paralysis of certain muscles. These children often develop deformities because the constant pull of tense contracted muscles is so great that it cannot be counteracted by normal muscle groups. Furthermore, the tendons which attach these abnormal muscles to the bone do not grow as rapidly as the bones.

A careful study must be made to determine the muscles which are spasmodic, weak and relaxed, or normal.

Braces are often helpful. It must be kept in mind, however, that such braces are used chiefly to control the muscles that are overly-strong and not to support the weak muscles. Thus, braces must be especially constructed and fitted with extreme care.

The feet should be bathed daily and perfect-fitting socks should be worn.

If there is a back brace, it is better to have no underclothing between the brace and the skin of the child. The brace should be checked often to make sure that it is properly fitted. If the brace is properly fitted, it may eventually be worn day and night.

Operations sometimes accomplish a great deal for these children. The type of operation which may be of value, however, can only be decided by an orthopedic specialist. It is often wise to continue the use of braces after an operation, to prevent the recurrence of deformities.

The drug, known as prostigmine may be helpful to some of these children, since it relaxes muscle spasm.

Many children with spastic paralysis have difficulty in eating and so suffer from vitamin and other deficiencies. Their diet must be well balanced. Since some of these children expend more energy than normal children, their food intake must be greater. It is suggested that they be given Vitamin B-complex, since this compound not only stimulates the appetite but also relieves constipation.

However, one of the most important factors in the management of spastic children is to give them the opportunity to play with other children. Frequently, the best way to accomplish this is to have them play with each other in summer camps and in hospitals and clinics.

Employees Pledge Four-Day 'Truce' In Telephone Dispute

DETROIT, Oct. 15 (AP)—Bargaining to head off a general statewide telephone strike was stepped up today as union leaders of 18,500 Michigan Bell Telephone company employees pledged a four-day truce in their rash of "spot" walkouts.

They made the pledge to Governor Kim Sigler with a return promise that a fact-finding panel would step into the dispute if it is not settled by next Tuesday noon.

Heads of two Michigan divisions of the communications workers of America (I.C.A.) also were given assurance that the suspension of about 20 union members would top the agenda for "peace" negotiations.

The company acquiesces them for taking part in what is termed "unauthorized walkouts."

SIGLER, MEETING company and union leaders in a Detroit hotel room, asked the parties to make an "honest and sincere effort" to avoid a repetition of the past year's crippling telephone strike in Michigan.

A series of "go-it-alone" strikes at exchanges throughout the state over the past three weeks was climaxed Thursday by walkouts at 19 exchanges in 17 cities. Further demonstrations then were called off pending today's conference with Sigler.

Both division 44 of the CWA, representing 10,000 switchboard operators and accounting employees, and division 43, representing 8,500 plant men, are demanding a flat 15-cent an hour wage increase. This would be equal to $3.20 a week.

The company has offered the operators union $3 to $5 raises depending on the size of the communities in which they work. Its latest offer to the plant men would give them an additional $3 to $6 a week on the same basis.

Michigan Bell says the complicated wage structure makes it impossible to reach a figure on average pay of its employees.

Southern Group Drops Charges Against Lewis

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Southern Coal Producers Association today withdrew its failure to bargain charge against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers union.

The case grew out of coal contract negotiations the past Spring. Lewis refused at first to deal with the Southern association but did so after attorneys for the National Labor Relations board obtained an injunction from Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough. Meantime the association had filed with the NLRB the charge that Lewis refused to bargain.

Attorneys for the association and Lewis pointed out to the NLRB today that they had settled their differences long ago. They said they wanted the case withdrawn. The Baltimore NLRB regional office agreed to drop it.

10-Ton TNT Blast Rocks 25-Mile Area

TAMAQUA, Oct. 15 (AP)—Ten tons of dynamite loaded aboard a truck, exploded today and ripped the truck into little pieces.

No one was injured in the blast, near Tamaqua, but the force of the explosion did these things:

Ripped a hole 60 feet long, 40 feet wide and 12 feet deep in the macadam highway.

Hurtled the truck's motor 1000 feet into a nearby wooded area.

Shattered windows in towns five miles away.

Awakened people over a 25-mile radius.

State Policeman Edward Zmijewski credited the truck driver, 31-year-old E. W. Petty of Little Rock, Ark., with preventing any loss of life.

Petty said that he picked up the dynamite at the Reynolds plant of the Atlas Powder company and was on his way to Raleigh, N. C. He parked the truck along the highway to get some sleep last night, awakened at 5 a. m. and set off for Raleigh.

He had gone a short distance, he said, when he smelled smoke and then saw flames in the rear of the truck.

Petty halted the vehicle and ran back and forth along the highway baling traffic and preventing vehicles from going near the truck.

He had started back for the truck when he heard a small explosion. Then there was a series of terrific blasts and Petty was hurled from his feet.

There was no indication of what caused the fire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—A 51-year-old restaurant cook was sentenced to prison today for cheating a one-legged friend of $16,000. The friend had been awarded the money for loss of the leg in a bus accident.

The cook, Frank Olah, pleaded guilty to a grand larceny indictment brought on a complaint by Frank Kellman, 62-year-old peddler.

Olah got some of the money by inducing Kellman to pay out $1000 for a "wristless wooden leg" to which he was fitted by a confederate posing as a doctor, the indictment charged.

He was accused of getting more money by cashing withdrawal bank slips he got Kellman to sign.

Olah was sentenced for a term of five to seven years.

Expert Tells Improved Form of Insulin, And 'Screening' Tests to Detect Diabetes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—A new form of insulin for diabetes and a new and quicker blood test designed to help detect many of the nation's estimated 1,000,000 "hidden" victims of the disease, were described here today.

Dr. Priscilla White of Boston, internationally known authority on diabetes, said the new type of insulin—called "NPH-50"—required fewer injections and had certain other advantages over two other widely-used types.

Declaring it had been tested clinically on various groups of doctors, Dr. White said the product was being made by Eli Lilly company of Indianapolis and that she believed it might become generally available in about six months.

SHE ALSO SAID that the U. S. Public Health service has developed a five-minute blood test which offers a means of detecting possible cases of diabetes among large numbers of apparently well persons.

Declaring the test is "not absolutely positive," and that it should be given in conjunction with a test for sugar in the urine, Dr. White said definite diagnosis of diabetes could only be established by a more lengthy blood test.

But she asserted the test offered a new aid toward "mass screening" of the population to help screen out "diabetic" possibilities and she said the American Diabetes association hopes that it may be given a nation-wide trial during a "diabetes detection drive" to be initiated during the week of Dec. 6 to 12.

THE ASSOCIATION, she told reporters, has just informed its membership throughout the country that it will urge state, county and local medical societies to sponsor detection drives and try to have every person in the country undergo a urine analysis and possibly a blood test.

Dr. White came here to address the Diabetes Association of the District of Columbia.

Labor Confederation Turns Thumbs Down On Proposal of General Strike in France

PARIS, Oct. 15 (P)—The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGT) voted almost unanimously today against calling a general strike.

Only three out of more than 2000 delegates supported a resolution calling for the general work stoppage. Secretary-General Benoit Franchon, in his opening speech, had praised results he said had been achieved by the present policy of partial strikes.

CGT ended a five-day convention after calling for a minimum monthly wage of 13,000 francs (about $50) and an "escalator clause" to adjust wages to the cost of living.

MEANWHILE, METAL WORKERS in Lorraine returned to their jobs, and employees of 25 iron mines in eastern France agreed to go back to work Monday. Taxis returned to Paris streets with increased rates after a week's strike.

However, there was no sign of a break in the 12-day-old coal walkout. The government charged many of the country's mines are suffering seriously from neglect during the strike.

Hitting back quickly, Communist union leaders ordered strikers to abandon all care of mines for 24 hours Monday. They said they had issued this order because of the presence of police in coal regions.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION MINISTER Robert LaCoste said

Man Strikes Uranium; He Thought It Was Gold

COSTA MESA, Calif., Oct. 15 (P)—For the second time in a few weeks uranium has been discovered in Southern California—but whether in recoverable quantities appeared uncertain today.

Wesley R. Collins, Costa Mesa plumbing contractor, made the find while excavating for a swimming pool on his ranch. He thought he'd found gold.

Instead, reported Fred B. Greusel, San Bernardino chemist, the shining pyrites were uranium—with what Greusel described as a Geiger 26 count.

Anything about 25 is of interest to the government, Greusel said, but the atomic energy commission considers a 40-count desirable for commercial recovery.

Another recent find in the Beaumont foothills, Greusel reported, showed a 28-count.

Local Couple Marks Golden Wedding Day
Mr. and Mrs. John Rhoads, 134 College street, marked their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday. In view of the fact that Rhoads is an invalid, there was no formal observance of the event.
Mr. Rhoads, now 74, a son of Samuel and Mary Rhoads, of Friedensburg, and his wife, now 70, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim and Mary Geyer, Pottstown, were married on Oct. 15, 1898, by the Rev. Isaac Stahl, then pastor of Salem Reformed church, Spanglersville.
At first the couple resided at 1915. Rhoads was engaged in horse-shoeing for a period of more than 22 years. Later, he became an auto mechanic and continued in that business until he retired about 14 years ago on account of illness.
The couple are members of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown.
Their only child, Verna, a daughter, died in 1915.

ITU Ask NLRB to Curb Counsel's Power To Seek Court Injunctions in Labor Fights

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The AFL, International Typographical union today asked the National Labor Relations board to withdraw its delegation of power to NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham to seek court injunctions in labor disputes.

A brief the printers union filed with the board charged that Denham has "utilized his delegated power to initiate injunction and contempt proceedings in a reckless and unprincipled manner."

Denham declined comment on the union's statements.

Federal Judge Luther M. Sargent handed down a decision yesterday in Indianapolis holding the ITU in contempt of an earlier injunction. This barred the ITU from continuing to propose contract terms to newspaper publishers seeking to preserve the now prohibited closed shop.

"PRIVATE INTERESTS rather than public interests have been the determining factors in the kind of injunction and contempt actions," the ITU said today.

"Moreover, the motives which underlay the general counsel's action in seeking the contempt action (against the ITU) are not such as to reflect credit upon a representative of the public interest."

"It has been found by the president of the United States that the general counsel and his representatives were under undue pressure from a member of the United States Senate to initiate the contempt proceeding, a member who was acting on the behalf of and at the instigation of interested newspaper publishers."

This referred to President Truman's declaration that a Senator Taft (R-Ohio) put "his heat on" Denham and his staff to bring contempt action against the union.

BRIEFS WERE FILED today by both the ITU and the American Newspaper Publishers association in a case before the NLRB itself involving the same allegations of Taft-Hartley violations. The court injunction was designed to stop the union from continuing alleged illegal practices until the NLRB rules on them.

An NLRB trial examiner also has ruled against the union and today's briefs were filed in the union's appeal to the NLRB from the examiner's report.

The ANPA brief argued that the trial examiner should be upheld. But the publishers organization said the examiner had "gone far enough and has no objection against the union should be broadened."

"It is respectfully submitted," the ANPA brief said, "in this case the respondents (the ITU) have refused to bargain collectively with employers."

Druck was thrown from the cab of his vehicle when he sideswiped an oil truck and smashed into a milk truck.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson (above) said yesterday in an address in Washington that unless labor goes to the polls in strength in November, "we can look forward to a continued hay ride in Congress under the Republican party."

Rare Blood Malady Corrected in Twins

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15 (AP) — Transfusions started six hours after they were born were credited with saving the lives of Susan and Penelope Sullivan, prematurely born identical twins suffering from an RH blood factor.

Born Oct. 3, the twins received a total of 400 cc's of blood in several transfusions, the last Oct. 9. Dr. Fremont P. Koch, chief resident physician at the Children's hospital, said the rare anemic blood condition was determined during pregnancy. John Sullivan, the father, is an RH positive type, while the mother, Mary Sullivan, is an RH negative, Dr. Koch said.

More than half the infants' red blood cells were already destroyed in the conflict of the two types before the first transfusion, Koch said. Their blood counts are now normal.

Dr. John D. Little, professor of pediatrics at the University of Southern California and a medical director at Children's hospital, where the transfusions took place, said he knows of only one other case in medical history in which identical twins were successfully treated for erythroblastosis — the scientific name for an RH blood factor.

Democrat Farm-Labor Program Aired By Senator Barkley in Midwest Talks

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 15 (AP) — Extension of Social Security benefits to farmers and repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law topped a farm-labor program outlined tonight by Senator Alben W. Barkley.

The Democratic Vice Presidential nominee enunciated his party's "basic" goals for farmers and working men in speeches at Kansas City, Kas., and St. Joseph, Mo.

Earlier in a speech at Columbia, Mo., he called upon Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, GO. Presidential nominee, to state publicly his position on Federal aid to education.

"The farmer," Barkley said in a speech written for delivery at St. Joseph, "always bears the brunt of economic recession" and "is the last to recover."

The farm policy of the Republican party, he declared, "would neither protect the gains of the last 16 years nor provide adequate growth in the future."

THE DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM to meet the "basic needs" of farmers, Barkley said, is built around these provisions:

1. A long term, adequate farm price support program based on parity.
2. Extended farm and crop insurance.
3. Extension of long-term, low-interest credit.
4. Continuance of the school lunch programs.
5. More family-type farms and less "corporation farming."
6. Assistance to farm laborers.
7. Recognition of farm co-operation.

To Be Speaker

The Rev. Charles Kishi, president of the United Lutheran church in Japan, will be the guest speaker in the Emmanuel Lutheran church at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow and in the Transfiguration Lutheran church at the 7:30 vesper service.

The Japanese minister was classified by his native government as a "dangerous character" in 1941, after he had preached to his Lutheran congregation in Kyoto that they should pray for their enemies.

He was arrested, accused of being a "peace lover," and beaten by Japanese police on a charge of conveying information about his "sympathies."

He was cleared by American military intelligence after the war and was later allowed to come to this country.

During the recent convention of the United Lutheran church in Philadelphia the Rev. Kishi was the representative of his church.

He also attended the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, The Netherlands, this past summer.

In observance of the 100th anniversary of the organization of the English portion of Trinity Reformed church, the annual congregational meeting will be held in Fellowship hall Monday night.

Also noted will be the 15th anniversary of the ordination to the Christian ministry of the pastor, the Rev. John B. Frantz. He is beginning his sixth year as pastor of the church.

Preceding the meeting, a dinner will be served to members under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Stephens. This affair will be the first congregational project to be held in the recently renovated social room and new kitchen of the church.

The business meeting will be in charge of the pastor, who will present a brief summary of the congregation's activities during the past year. A report of the activities in the auxiliary organizations and the organized classes of the Sunday school will be available.

MEMBERS WILL elect officers to fill vacancies in the offices of elder, deacon and trustee on the consistory, the official governing body of the congregation.

All Have Sinned!

"All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all."

(Isa. 53:6)

This verse epitomizes the central theme of the Bible, setting forth, as it does, man's ruined condition by nature and practice and God's gracious remedy where the guilty sinner may be cleared of every charge and stand uncondemned before the throne of the Eternal. It is as though the books of the world have been balanced by three brief entries, two on the debit side of the ledger and one on the credit side.

The debit entries are these: 1—All have gone astray like sheep. These creatures follow a leader only too readily. If a flock of sheep is being driven along a road led by a bell-weather and this leader goes through a hole in the fence along the side, all will go after it. Adam sinned by disobeying God's command, and his entire race has followed in the path of rebellion and iniquity.

The second entry speaks of our individual wickedness: "We have turned every one to his own way." Thus all are under condemnation because of personal sin.

Nothing that we can do will ever suffice to balance the account. But God has provided a Saviour. His own blessed Son took upon Himself the responsibility of settling the sin-question to the divine satisfaction. On the cross, His soul was made an offering for sin. There Jehovah laid upon Him the iniquity of us all. Now the books are balanced and when we believe the record we enter into peace, knowing that

"Payment God will not twice demand,
First at my bleeding Surety's hand and then again at mine."

If you are troubled about your sins and anxious for the knowledge of justification before God, you have but to take Him at His word and your conscience will be at rest. Go in at the first ALL and come out at the last ALL. In other words, take your place in repentance before God as a confessed sinner and believe the record He has given of His son, which tells you that all your iniquities were laid on Jesus when He offered up Himself as a ransom for all who will trust in Him. God's Word will never fail. His character demands the salvation of all who believe in Jesus.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

This picture portrays a sight that was common a few generations ago. The tallow candle was an essential commodity in nearly every home, and much of the world's activity was carried on by its flickering beams.

From the earliest days, man has sought means of lighting his darkness. In this quest, he has progressed from the burning of sticks and candles to the use of the gas burner and electricity.

Thus man has robbed the night of its terrors, and has used the dark hours to serve his own purposes. He does not have to cower in a cave or den as many wild animals do. With light, he can work, study, travel, play, or be entertained.

Spiritual darkness is more to be feared and shunned than the darkness of night. Man needs a light within to guide his heart and mind as he moves onward through life. God is that light, and the Church and the Bible are the sources from which it shines.

Hoffman Hints U. S. Burden Of Aid for Europe May Ease

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—A cut in America's burden of recovery aid for Europe was forecast today by Paul G. Hoffman, Economic Cooperation administrator.

Hoffman's prediction was based on this year's economic gains in war-devastated nations of Europe.

But other U. S. officials, having in mind proposals for a new lend-lease program to re-arm Western Europe, were not hopeful of any boon to taxpayers in the form of an over-all cut in foreign spending.

In fact, budget bureau and treasury officials said privately that if cold-war tensions cause Congress to vote military aid, next year's foreign spending might top this year's total of more than $7,000,000,000.

EVEN WITHOUT THE lend-lease plan, this country's 1950 budget may be $15,000,000,000—a new record—because military outlays are climbing toward a probable total of $14,000,000,000. They now account for $12,000,000,000 in a $42,200,000,000 budget.

Hoffman made his forecast of lower Marshall plan spending at a news conference. A correspondent asked whether recovery costs for fiscal 1950—the year ending June 30, 1950—might be smaller than this year's $5,055,000,000.

Hoffman replied: "I can say this—I think recovery has gone on in Europe to a point where we believe when we get these programs (estimates now being compiled by the Marshall plan countries in Paris), they will call for less, a smaller sum, than we have had this year."

HE ADDED: "How much, I haven't any idea yet."

Hoffman, who returned yesterday from Europe, has reported that recovery results are "worth the cost to date." Europe has made a 33 percent gain in fertilizer production, 21 percent in steel, and 10 percent in electric power, he told the New York board of trade last night. Steel-making is six percent ahead of the recovery program schedule, he reported.

Today's economy forecast was complicated, however, by the fact that ECA's present budget for Europe is a 15-month program instead of the usual 12-month, mid-year to mid-year budget. Congress voted ECA funds the past April to run through next June. But if the funds are used up by next April, Hoffman may return to Congress for more money. Spending now is somewhat behind schedule, but a supplemental appropriation may be needed.

The ECA chief told newsmen he could not talk about the prospects of an arms-shipment program to bolster the Marshall plan against Communist advances. Economic recovery, not munitions, is his field, he said.

TEN GERMANS ARE HANGED AS WAR CRIMINALS

Nazis Go to Gallows For Slaying U. S. Fliers, Killings of Prison Camp

MUNICH, Germany, Oct. 15 (AP)—Ten Germans were hanged today for the wartime killing of unarmed American fliers and concentration camp inmates.

They were obscure killers whose names on the war crimes list were overshadowed by such major offenders as Hermann Goering and Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

They were more than a year ago before an American war crimes court at Dachau, their sentences were reviewed and approved by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military commander for Germany.

They were led from their cells one at a time to the courtyard of Landsberg prison, where the gallows were erected.

"Long live Germany!" shouted one as the noose was thrown around his neck. The others died "without incident," the Army reported. Each hanging took about 10 minutes.

THE EXECUTED MEN ranged from the mayor of a town to a concentration camp prisoner who turned on his fellow inmates.

An American bomber crash landed near the mayor's town April 4, 1944. Seven crew members who survived were marched through the streets by sailors from a German anti-aircraft battalion. Mayor Altkermann "vehemently urged the townspeople to attack the defenseless prisoners," the Army report said. All seven Americans were killed.

Hanged with Altkermann was Heinrich Schmitt, in charge of the battalion. He was accused not only of failing to protect his prisoners but also of shooting one himself.

Also hanged on charges of killing from one to several American fliers who had parachuted from damaged aircraft were Heinz Hellen Broich, Erwin Goss, Fritz Girke, Joseph J. Kiwitz and Willi Rieke.

August Ginschel, concentration camp inmate, was accused of beating to death an undetermined number of fellow prisoners after he was moved up to the position of orderly at Flossenberg camp.

Two SS (elite guard) sergeants, Cornelius Schwanner and Christian Mohr, were hanged for beating Flossenberg inmates to death when they became too weak to work.

Red Food Minister Fired—Missed Quota

MOSCOW, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Soviet Union has fired its minister of the meat and dairy industry, apparently because he failed to fill his production quota.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said today the presidium of the Supreme Soviet has appointed Nikolai Ivanovich Smirnov to replace V. V. Vorobev in the post.

The announcement came after the central statistical administration reported that Vorobev fell nine percent below his quota.

The statistical administration said that Russia's industrial production as a whole now is 26 percent higher than in 1940, peak year of Soviet accomplishment, and that the 1948 grain crop has reached the 1940 level.

"During the nine months of 1948 the total production of Soviet industry exceeded the average level of pre-war 1940 by 14 percent and in September by 26 percent," the industrial report said.

STRIKE IS ENDED AMBRIDGE, Oct. 15 (AP)—A walk-out at the American Bridge company plant that idled 2,900 of 3,300 production workers ended today when striking crane operators returned to work.

Hull Says Dewey Was 'Incorrect' In Claiming Bipartisan Credit

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull accused Thomas E. Dewey today of making an "extravagant" claim of having originated the bipartisan foreign policy.

Dewey's claim, he said, is "incorrect." Hull issued a statement quoting Dewey's Oct. 12 speech at Louisville, Ky., in which Dewey said: "We have abandoned partisanship to speak through a bipartisan policy. That was the great objective when I first proposed to Secretary Hull during the election campaign four years ago that we have co-operation between our two parties to win the peace. That was the beginning of our bipartisan foreign policy."

Hull said Dewey could "easily refresh his memory of what actually took place" by re-reading the newspapers of August and September, 1944.

HULL CONTINUED: "The melancholy importance of Gov. Dewey's statement is that it is only the latest of many statements in which extravagant claims for credit have been made for achievements which were the fruit of joint and patriotic effort by members of both political parties."

"If these competitive claims continue, they will inject partisanship into the conduct of our foreign affairs quite as effectively as though the debate were directed toward the substance of our policies."

Hull said he was "directly sorry to read Gov. Dewey's statement because it presents such a sharp contrast to the statement which he made in the same city four years ago."

IN THAT STATEMENT, Hull said, Dewey promised that "so long as I have anything to say about it, I shall insist" that American efforts to keep the peace would never be made the subject "for partisan political advantage by any individual or by any party either in or out of office."

Hull went on: "I heartily agreed with that statement then and recommend it now to all who speak for either party during the remainder of the campaign."

"For whichever party is returned to power next November, while it must assume the ultimate responsibility for the conduct of our foreign affairs, it must conduct them in a non-partisan spirit and will need, as never before, the same non-partisan co-operation from its political opponents."

Several Feared Lost in Blaze At Naval Base

QUONSET, R. I., Oct. 15 (AP)—Fire which sent flames 100 feet in the air late this afternoon destroyed a repair shop at the Quonset Naval air station and officials feared several men were trapped in the wreckage.

The fire, pronounced under control at 5:45 p. m., two hours and 15 minutes after it began, caused damage of more than $1,000,000, a Navy public information officer said.

The flames were stopped at a fire wall between a brick wing used for repairing engines and the main structure of the hangar. The latter part escaped damage.

ALTHOUGH OFFICIALLY under control, the flames were expected to burn for another hour because of the grease and oil contained in the wing.

Whether any persons had been trapped remained undetermined to night. Firemen soaked the fire area to permit search of the ruins by bulldozer.

The flames roared out of control for more than an hour and one wall of the building collapsed, pinning at least three men.

Rescue crews managed to get out most of those trapped, but others are still being sought. The rescued men were taken to the Navy dispensary for treatment of burns and bruises.

The flames broke out in the extreme southern end of the southern wing of the overhaul and repair department. A series of explosions caused by oil tanks in the shop punctuated the fire.

Dense black smoke billowing nearly 500 feet in the air spread over Narragansett bay.

U. S. Says North Korea Regime Gained Power in 'Bogus' Election

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—A new Russian-backed Communist regime in North Korea was described by the State department tonight as a Soviet puppet which took power through bogus elections.

The northern "Democratic People's republic" also claims jurisdiction over South Korea, where a republic was set up Aug. 15 under United Nations and American supervision.

Reviewing the three-year dispute with Russia over Korea's future, the State department said the rival North Korea regime was proclaimed on Sept. 9 after a Soviet-style election in which voters were given only a yes-or-no choice.

A "SECRET ELECTION" also was purportedly held in South Korea, but the department said "it is certain that only a very small number of persons even received ballots."

said the South Koreans who voted apparently represented only small Communist factions.

The North Korea "republic" will be the heir of Soviet power if Moscow carries out its announced intent of withdrawing all Russian occupation forces by Jan. 1. Left behind, however, will be Russian-trained native troops which American officials credit with being stronger than the existing South Korean forces.

The State department put out a detailed 124-page review of developments since V-J Day, including events since the new South Korea regime headed by President Syngman Rhee took office.

The U. N. General Assembly is expected to take up the issue soon.

The department noted that since V-J Day, the United States has provided South Korea with more than $300,000,000 in aid of all kinds.

Strike Continues, Head Denies Split

Harry Bridges (inset) denied yesterday that there was a policy split in the longshoremen's union that has tied up the West coast for 44 days. Shown above are a number of ships held up for lack of cargo.

Longshoremen President Denies Union 'Split' on Strike Policy

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Reports of a policy split between Harry Bridges and several of his top-ranking CIO longshore leaders were published by the Call-Bulletin today as the prolonged maritime strike went into its 44th day, with no outward signs of an immediate settlement.

The Call-Bulletin said "it was common talk along the waterfront" that Bridges was at odds with another union faction. The report said Bridges was trying to end the costly strike, while opposing elements were working to prolong it.

Bridges called a special press conference yesterday and announced he had "no differences" with Allan S. Haywood and R. J. Thomas, the trouble-shooters sent here by National CIO President Philip Murray to work toward a resumption of contract negotiations with waterfront employers.

CONCERNING THE purported split, the Call-Bulletin said the "peace" group include Bridges, J. E. Robertson and Cole Jackman, former member of the joint employer-union labor relations committee.

The newspaper reported the other faction was headed by Henry Schmidt, present member of the union's labor relations committee; Louis Goldblatt, ILWU secretary-treasurer; and Germain Buicke, ILWU vice president. It added the Schmidt-Goldblatt-Buicke group was reportedly guided by leftwing political considerations.

Bridges and Schmidt, according to the Call-Bulletin, differed earlier in the strike over the Army's use of civil service stevedores at Oakland Army base, where the government has insisted that vital military cargoes must move to Pacific stations regardless of the shipping tie up.

Schmidt was said to have threatened to cancel all Army loadings unless the "strikebreakers," as he called the civil service men, were put on other work. The paper said this move was made without Bridges' approval.

Schmidt earlier was reported to have had a hand in a protest against any "outside" signature—presumably that of Murray or his representatives—being affixed to a contract, if and when one is signed.

Thousands of men between 18 and 48, who so far are not in the Israeli army or police, reported for road building and similar work. They reported for two weeks when their places are to be taken by others. The work will not even stop on the Sabbath and holidays, it was said.

Jerusalem dispatches said many shops and offices were closed there today when Jewish authorities began another comb out of manpower for what was described as "essential defense works."

A few hours later, six Egyptian Spitfires reportedly strafed a number of convoys traveling between settlements in the southern desert, causing additional casualties and destroying more trucks.

Jerusalem dispatches said many shops and offices were closed there today when Jewish authorities began another comb out of manpower for what was described as "essential defense works."

Charge That U. S. Controls Greece Termed Untrue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—A Russian report that there are 10,000 Americans in Greece who have established "complete control" there, brought a sharp response from the State department today.

The department said there are in Greece only 474 American military men and 849 American civilians, exclusive of dependents. Most of the civilians, the department said, are working for engineering firms repairing war damage.

Press Officer Michael J. McDermott gave the figures to reporters in an unusual statement replying to a Tass news agency dispatch from Athens the past Saturday.

Trojans Oppose Phoenixville in Alumni Homecoming Tilt

8000 Fans Expected to See 36th Meeting of 2 Schools

Phoenixville High's Phantoms invade Franklin Field this afternoon to take on Pottstown's unbeaten Trojans in the annual Alumni Homecoming Day grid tussle. The kickoff is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock.

Spring City Eleven Seeks Revenge Over Nether-Providence

Spring City High's gridmen, who a week ago avenged a defeat by turning back Upper Merion will try and obtain revenge for another setback when they clash with the big Nether-Providence eleven this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock on the Spring City campus.

Upper Merion and Nether-Providence were the only two teams to beat the Pirates the past season. Nether-Providence rolled up a majority of 41 to 12. The brilliant showing of the Blue and White a week ago against the Spartans indicates they have an even chance of scoring another win in today's match.

New Starter

The Phantoms will field a team with seven lettermen this afternoon in an attempt to chalk up their first win over the Pottstownians since 1945 when they halted the Trojans, 19-6, at Phoenixville.

The Trojans hunched the Phantoms a 13-0 defeat here two years ago, and the past year's game ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

THE PHOENIXVILLE offensive attack centers on Joe Ubol, senior halfback who gave the Trojans plenty of trouble in the past two years. It was Ubol who scored the Phantoms' lone touchdown against Pottstown a year ago.

Other backs who the Trojans will have to watch for today are Frankie Ubol, Hal Buckwalter and Dean Scars. The latter is a newcomer to the Phoenixville backfield, having played two years at guard.

Pottstown's backfield will line up with Bobby Mauger at quarterback, Bob "Chubby" Stouch and Bob Dobry at halfbacks and Pete Peroni at fullback. Stouch is replacing Melvin "Tote" Howard, who was injured slightly in practice the past week.

STOUCH IS A SENIOR and has seen plenty of action in the past two years. He was a starter at fullback when the 1947 season opened but later was changed to a halfback position. This year he has understudied Howard at left half and scored two touchdowns in the Trojans' 46-0 rout of Bristol.

Stouch will be the only new-c comer to the Pottstown lineup today. Coach Herb Meyers said yesterday he will stand pat on all the other positions.

The Trojans will be shooting for their fourth consecutive win this afternoon. The Blue and White protégés of Meyers have defeated Upper Merion, Bristol and Norristown this year.

Phoenixville comes to town with a record of two wins and one defeat. The Phantoms, with Coach Johnny Hubickas at the helm, opened their season with a 26-13 conquest of Howard High of Wilmington, Del., but lost their second game to West Chester, 13-6. The Phantoms followed up their first defeat with a 21-0 victory over Downingtown a week ago.

Probable starting lineups:
Phoenixville: Pos. J. Pollock, LT. Baugh, LG. Krasak, RG. Redman, RE. B. B. QB. F. Ubol, LB. J. Ubol, RB. B. B. FB. Scars.

400 Students Exercise Lungs At Pep Rally

A throng of 400 Pottstown High students got their lungs in condition for today's Trojan-Phoenixville football game with songs and cheers at a pep rally on Franklin Field last night.

Sponsored by the Pottstown High Athletic association, the rally lasted approximately 45 minutes and was climaxed with a snake dance to the high school.

The rally got underway with Brower Yerger, president of the senior class in Pottstown High, lighting the huge fire. Eddie Kovach, aided by Earl Strom and Ken Query, entertained the throng with a humorous program before the cheerleaders took over for school songs and cheers.

KOVACH, master of ceremonies, then read a message from Coach Herb Meyers who was unable to attend the affair. Meyers said the Phoenixville game is always tough and he is expecting this year's tussle to be a little more difficult. He then asked for the support of the fans and urged them to attend today's game.

The school band led the snake dance down Franklin street to Walnut, where the throng turned right and proceeded to the high school.

THE HILL DROPS 7-0 DECISION TO HAVERFORD

Victors Score Only TD In First Period; Hill Threat Fails in Third

A long pass which covered 35 yards set up the touchdown that gave Haverford school a 7-0 decision over The Hill yesterday afternoon at Haverford.

The home team took possession of the ball on its own 40-yard line after a punt by The Hill's Jack Pfeiffer. A five-yard penalty pushed Haverford back to the 45, but Fred Geg gave Haverford a first down with a long aerial to Tom Eglin.

Eglin was tackled on the 10. Two line plays worked the ball to the six, from where Dick Bremiller plunged over for the touchdown. Eglin added the extra point via placement kick.

The Hill threatened to tie the score in the third period on a march that carried to the Haverford 11-yard line before the home team held on downs and regained possession of the ball.

The defeat was the second for The Hill this year, the first coming at the hands of Princeton Frodo a week ago. Coach Jack Riley's charges defeated Williamson Trade school in their opener, 38-0.

Lineups:
The Hill: Pos. The Hill, LT. Isaac, LG. Martin, RG. Roe, RT. Hahn, QB. Spadone, LB. Abbott, RB. Pfeiffer, FB. Hurst.
Haverford: Pos. Haverford, LT. Dewey, LG. Monticelli, RG. W. S. Dotterer, RT. Young, QB. Frost, LB. Grek, RB. Eglin, FB. Bremiller, Cornell.

Score by periods:
The Hill: 0 0 0 0-0
Haverford: 7 0 0 7-0

Pottstown Rangers Battle Kensington

Having won one game and lost one on road, the Pottstown Rangers will try their luck at home tomorrow when they play host to the Kensington All-Stars of Philadelphia on First Field at Charlotte and Master streets.

The kickoff of tomorrow's amateur grid tussle is scheduled for 2:15 o'clock.

The Rangers opened their season three weeks ago with a 7-0 victory over Mt. Carmel AC of Philadelphia on the latter's field, but lost a 25-6 decision to Kulpville AC the past Sunday.

Coaches Joe Roncace and Don Schmoey announced the starting lineup for the Rangers will have Bob Breuninger and Bill Leville at ends, George Ganters and Dick Bechtel at tackles, Dick Sweeney and Les Lendenmuth at guards, Charles E. Oltz at center, Bill Bender at quarterback, Len Rath and Bob Cannell at halfbacks and Charles Kelly at fullback.

9 Horses Challenge Citation for Gold Cup

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Nine horses were named today to challenge Citation in tomorrow's $100,000 Empire City Gold Cup—much to the surprise of the management. Only half a dozen had been expected for the big international race over a mile and five furlongs.

Citation has walloped everything sent against him in this country during his brilliant three-year-old campaign. The chief interest tomorrow will center on whether the great Calumet farm champion will have any trouble handling two European performers.

It doesn't seem likely, after Citation's smashing rout of six horses in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at two miles Oct. 2. After that one, veteran horsemen were putting Citation's name in big letters alongside Man O' War.

ARDC Races Return Here Tomorrow

The roar of racing motors will echo over the Sanatoga speedway once again tomorrow afternoon when the American Racing Drivers club resumes mudcat auto speedsters over the fast midget oval.

Time trials will launch the lengthy program at one o'clock, with the first competitive event scheduled to get underway at 2:30. Three 12-lap qualifying heats, two 15-lap semi-final races and a 12-lap consolation event will precede the 20-lap feature sweepstakes.

In bringing the ARDC back to Sanatoga after an absence of several months, Karp Spatz, track director, has signed many of the nation's leading mudcat drivers, including such outstanding stars as Larry Bloomer, Dutch Schaeffer, Len Duncan, Vernon Land, Ernie McCoy, Hawley Knight, Jimmy Forte, Vic Sloan, Dick Dwyer, Walt Gregory, Andy VanHusen and a galaxy of other chance-taking chauffeurs.

Bloomer, Schaeffer, Duncan and Land will be among the drivers who will handle the powerful Offenhauser cars here tomorrow. The expensive high-powered Offies will compete in the same qualifying races as the durable sturdy Fords, with the fastest cars getting together for the feature sweepstakes.

The ARDC cars and drivers are no strangers to the popular Sanatoga speedway, having performed here during the early weeks of the tracks' operation this season. The new contract between Sanatoga speedway and the ARDC signed only the past week, calls for the promotion of Sunday afternoon races here as long as the weather permits.

Norco Wildcats Travel to Meet Unbeaten East Greenville Team

Fighting mad after losing a 10-0 decision to Bortown a week ago, Norco Covert High's Wildcats travel to East Greenville this afternoon to attempt to hand Coach Dave Pirce's gridders their first setback of the season. The kickoff has been set for 2:15 o'clock.

The Greenies have recorded four consecutive victories this year and will be all out in an effort to make five in a row this afternoon. The last victim to fall under East Greenville was Schenckville and the Greenies really rounced it, winning by a 46-13 score.

Norco won its first two games from Maple-Newton and Collegeville before Bortown came along and dumped the Wildcats with a rally in the final 10 minutes of the game. The Wildcats romped over Collegeville, 32-0, and edged Maple-Newton, 7-0.

Cooper Faces Arrest On Bad Check Charge

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—Police were ordered today to arrest Morton C. Cooper, former pitching star for the St. Louis Cardinals, on a charge of passing worthless checks. The arrest order was issued by Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Thomas J. Krauska on complaint of Gere White manager of the Mark Twain hotel. White alleged that two checks for $50 each which the hotel cashed for Cooper on Aug. 27 had been returned marked insufficient funds. Efforts to have Cooper make the checks good had been unsuccessful, White said.

Golden Cubs Crush Downingtown, 18-6

The Golden Cubs of Pottstown Junior High ended a three-game losing streak yesterday afternoon with an 18-6 conquest of Downingtown Junior High before a throng of 400 fans on Franklin Field.

The victory over Downingtown was the first triumph of the year for the Cubs, who had lost their first two games to Phoenixville and Coatesville. The losing streak started with the final game on the 1947 schedule.

The Cubs scored their first TD in the second period via the aerial route and then capitalized on two breaks to score in the third and fourth periods.

Star Chaplin, Golden Cub fullback, was a standout in yesterday's game. The big gridders ran for 200 yards, tossed passes, got off beautiful punts and made a big percentage of the tackles on defense.

AN END AROUND PLAY with Frank Harrison logging the pigskin for about 30 yards gave the Trojans a first down on the Downingtown four-yard line midway through the second period.

After two line backs moved the ball to the one, Pottstown outsmarted Downingtown with Dave Ricketts tossing short pass to Harrison in the end zone for the score. Chaplin's attempted placement kick for the extra point was wide of its mark.

In the third period Chaplin hurried to the Downingtown 30. The end hit the Downingtown receiver and started bounding toward the goal line. Two Downingtown players and two Pottstown gridders blocked the ball in trying to pick it up and eventually the ball rolled over the goal line. An alert Pottstown lineman, Dave Suchozka, fell on the ball in the end zone and Pottstown led, 12-0.

LATER IN the same period Ralph Talarico, Downingtown backfield ace, led the visitors to the Pottstown 30 from where the fast halfback circled left end and scored, snapping up.

Pottstown marched to the Downingtown one-yard stripe late in the fourth period but the visitors held on downs. On the first play from scrimmage, Downingtown attempted to pass out of danger, but Johnny Harvey intercepted on the five and gained over the goal line for Pottstown's third touchdown.

The lineups:
Pottstown: Pos. Downingtown, LT. Law, LG. Suplee, RG. Jones, RT. Root, QB. Angle, LB. Grek, RB. Eglin, FB. Bremiller, Cornell.

PAPERS REVEAL NFL OFFICIAL READY TO QUIT

Bell to See Movies on Game Before Acting on Weiss-Marshall Feud

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15 (AP)—Commissioner Bert Bell called today for motion pictures of Sunday's National Football league game between Washington and Pittsburgh in the wake of reports that a league official has pressed actions by Washington owner George Preston Marshall.

The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and the Post-Gazette said today that Judge Samuel Weiss, deputy league commissioner, objected to Marshall's actions and threatened to quit unless the owner is disciplined.

Bell said the report "isn't true." Weiss refused to give a direct comment.

THE FUSS arose after the wild windup to the game won by Pittsburgh's Steelers, 10 to 7. Marshall hurried onto the field after the end of the game and was seen gesturing amid a group of players and officials.

During the game, Washington drew 160 yards for 17 rule infractions and the Steelers won on a last-minute field goal after an offside penalty called by Weiss as back judge gave the Steelers another chance to make the placement attempt.

Bell said that Weiss submitted a report on the game and added that such reports are routine and are submitted to the commissioner's office regularly by officials after each game.

HE REFUSED to disclose the contents of Weiss' report but said the official "is working next Sunday."

Weiss had this to say in Pittsburgh: "All I will say is that I put a complete and detailed report in his (Bell's) hands."

Bell said he will study pictures of the game taken by Washington and Pittsburgh photographers. He would not comment when asked if he planned any disciplinary action.

GEORGE M'QUINN GIVEN RELEASE BY NY YANKEES

Chuck Dressen Receives Permission to Hunt Job With Another Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—George McQuinn, 37-year-old first baseman, was given his unconditional release by the New York Yankees today.

McQuinn was picked up as a free agent at the start of the 1947 season and his fancy fielding helped the club with a pennant and the World Series the past year. This year he was a regular until mid-season but was on the bench much of the last half of the campaign.

Caszy Stengel, newly named manager of the Yankees, said today that Chuck Dressen, a coach under Bucky Harris the past two seasons, had been given permission to check with another major league club regarding a job.

THERE HAVE BEEN reports that Dressen, whose Yankee contract has another year to go, may rejoin Leo Esposito, new manager of the New York Giants. The two worked together at Brooklyn.

Stengel, who left for his home in Glendale, Calif., late today, also said that John Schulte, bullpen coach for the Yankees, had asked for and received his release. Schulte told Stengel he was in line for a job as manager of a Triple A club.

The new Yankee manager added that if Dressen failed to connect with another major league club he would return to the Yankees next season.

Woman Observes Her 65th Birthday; Dies Following Day

Yesterday morning, just one day after she had observed her 65th birthday, Miss Mary Verna Wendling, of 446 Chestnut street, died suddenly at her home at 9:20 o'clock.

Miss Wendling had been suffering from a heart ailment for the past seven years. But in recent weeks she apparently had improved.

The birthday dinner held for her by the immediate family Thursday night concluded a day that had seen her take one of her rare walks about the neighborhood.

Early yesterday morning, she seemed in good health, but was stricken while eating breakfast in her bedroom and died within 40 minutes.

MISS WENDLING had been employed for 42 years as a spooler in the Gudebrod Brothers Silk company plant, Stowe, returning when her health failed.

She was a lifelong resident of Pottstown and had resided with her brother, L. Russell Wendling, her only survivor, at 446 Chestnut street since 1910.

A member of Salem Evangelical United Brethren church since young womanhood, Miss Wendling also was a member of the Dames of Malta.

She was a daughter of the late Solomon S. and Mary (Reinert) Wendling.

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North

CORRECTION
In a news story in yesterday's Mercury of a Democratic club rally, Mrs. Irma Schwoyer, of 716 Queen street, was improperly identified. She is a State committee woman, not a candidate for the post.
